Founded in 2006 by art historian Patricia Ruiz-Healy, Ruiz-Healy Art champions Latin American, Latino and Texan artists across the United States and beyond.

This Saturday, the gallery will hold a 20th anniversary celebration featuring work by the 20 artists whom it currently represents.

Ruiz-Healy hones a sort of import-export model of gathering talent. Her roster includes contemporary artists from San Antonio who are now based elsewhere (Jennifer Ling Datchuk in Arizona and Alejandro Diaz in New York), San Antonio-based artists (Nate Cassie, Leigh Anne Lester and Eva Marengo Sanchez), the estate of Chuck Ramirez and Mexican masters such as the inimitable Graciela Iturbide.

Free, noon-3 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 20, Ruiz-Healy Art, 201 E. Olmos St., (210) 804-2219, ruizhealyart.com. — AG
